

Workshop on Zhangjiashan tomb 247

November 25, 2015 – 9:30 to 17:30/18:30

Organised jointly by
ERC project SAW (Research Group SPHERE)
 and
Centre de recherche sur les civilisations de l'Asie orientale (CRCAO)

Venue: Paris Diderot University, Condorcet Building, Room 646 A
 4 rue Elsa Morante 75013 Paris or 10 rue Alice Domon et L éonie Duquet 75013 Paris

9:30–10:00	Opening remarks – Daniel Morgan and Karine Chemla (ERC project SAW and SPHERE)
10:00–11:00	Les manuscrits de la région de Jingzhou au IIe s. avant notre ère : contexte archéologique – Alain Thote (EPHE, CNRS-CRCAO, France)
11:00–12:00	Tombs and Money – Enno Giele (Universität Heidelberg, Germany)
12:00–13:00	What can you do with a Calendar? Extracting Facts, Stories, and Information otherwise pertinent to your own Field from a Table of Dates – Daniel Morgan (Sphere, CNRS & University Paris Diderot, SAW Project)
13:00–14:30	Lunch
14:30–15:30	The legal manuscripts from Zhangjiashan tomb 247 revisited – Ulrich Lau (University of Hamburg, Germany)
15:30–16:30	Legal Manuscripts from Tombs: Some Reflections on their Possible Compilation, Use and Function – Thies Staack (University of Heidelberg, Germany)
16:30–17:30	Discussion
17:30–18:30	Extra time

*Within each hour, the speaker will ideally have 30-40 minutes for his talk, to be followed by a 10-minute Q & A and a 10-minute break. We have booked more time than we need, so our schedule is flexible according to the interests of the participants.